

- Public Relations

The church is not only the centre of the village, but also the centre of life.

Why then public relation?

- Public Relations show that church is more alive than outsiders often think.
- Public Relations include topics about God and the world in a contemporary language.
- Public Relations make clear what the protestant church is doing in the region and what it stands for in the Deanery Bergstrasse.
- Public Relations interfere when it comes to peace, justice and the preservation of creation.
- Public Relations cooperate with the local church parishes and helps to raise "treasures", which otherwise would remain unobserved.
- Public Relations strengthen the sense of belonging together in the protestant church.
- Public Relations cooperate with the departments of the deanery and show what we have to say and what we have to offer.
- Public Relations is connected to the Public Relations of the EKHN¹
- Public Relations belong to the team of Haus der Kirche.
